have posted their results from REAL WORLD testing! With REAL clients, in REAL situations. Since no one uses Wi-Fi in lab conditions... These real world tests are showing the ACTUAL results of WI-Fi 7. I do know how difficult it is to test when variables can not be controlled. It doesn't feel as 'scientific' when you fail get consistent results. But that IS the world in which Wi-Fi is used. These results are the first results from Wi-Fi testing that reflect what we've seen in the field.

It is high time TME's and vendor marketing folks experience the chance to reproduce these tests themselves!
